Investigators Seek Plane Crash Cause

Wreckage Yields Last Of 50 Bodies

HOLDCROFT, Va. (AP) — The fire-blackened wreckage of a Capital Airlines Viscount yielded the last of 50 bodies Tuesday, nearly 15 hours after the Chicago-to-Norfolk plane pancaked into a swampy ravine near here.

Throughout the day rescue workers toiled under a clear sky in marked contrast to the fog and rain that shrouded the area when the prop-jet airliner crashed Monday night. The last two bodies brought out were the stewardesses, finally reached by searchers who crawled on hands and knees from the nose through the still-smoldering ruins.

Immediately after these bodies were removed, teams of investigators began sifting through the tangled debris looking for clues that might show why the plane fell.

A spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Board termed the crash pattern "a little unusual. It was as if it had been let down by parachute."

No Swath Cut In Woods

There was no swath cut through the trees, such as a falling plane usually makes. A black gum tree impaled the plane and thrust 30 feet through the mid-section of the fuselage. Only six trees in the immediate area showed any marks of the tragedy.

Cause of the crash was not readily apparent.

The pilot, Capt. James B. Fornasero, 50, made a routine radio check with the Norfolk tower, at about 10 p. m. Then at 10:20 only 10 minutes before the plane was due to land, trouble apparently developed.

Three times the craft circled over the farm home of Robert H. Tench. The last time the engines roared as if they were wide open—and then silence.

Each body brought from the plane was strapped in, an indication those aboard expected a crash landing. The bodies of the stewardesses, in their seats facing the tail, were held by safety belts.

Worst Crash In Nearly Year

It was the nation's worst air disaster since Feb. 3, 1959. Then 65 persons perished in the crash of an American Airlines plane in the East River while attempting a landing at New York's La Guardia Airport. Only three months ago, 26 of 27 persons died when a Piedmont Airlines plane slammed into the Blue Ridge Mountains near Charlottesville, Va.

The Capital plane, flight 20, had left Washington at 9:48 p. m. with 46 passengers—29 men, 14 women and 3 children—and a crew of four. Forty-one of the passengers boarded the plane in Washington for the short hop to Norfolk. The others were through passengers from Chicago who came in on another section of the flight and switched planes in Washington. The airline said this was routine on many flights through the capital.

Court To Rule In USW Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Federal Judge Herbert P. Sorg said Tuesday he will rule later whether steelworkers performing their duties under a Taft-Hartley injunction are legally entitled to a four-cent hourly cost-of-living increase.

The case was argued in U.S. District Court by the United Steelworkers and several companies which still are involved in contract disputes with the USW. About 20,000 production workers are affected.

Meanwhile, in Weirton, W. Va., the Weirton Steel Co. and the Independent Steelworkers Union announced they have agreed on a new contract.

Carole Paid Him To Kill Finch's Wife, Con Says

Cody Testifies He Reneged On Deal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Cody, so-called shady character in the Finch murder trial, said Tuesday the first time he ever saw pretty Carole Tregoff happy was when he told her he had shot and killed Barbara Jean Finch.

Actually, Cody said, he had not shot Mrs. Finch and never had intended to.

Cody, 29, of Minneapolis, Minn., a key state's witness in the sensational murder case, also testified Carole once told him: "You can back out of this, Jack, if you want, but if you don't kill her, Dr. Finch will. And if he won't, I'll do it."

Cody also testified Dr. R. Bernard Finch instructed him to tell Mrs. Finch that her husband was behind the killing.

Pair Charged With Murder

Finch, 42, wealthy West Covina surgeon, and Miss Tregoff, 23, his mistress, are charged with conspiracy and murder in the gun slaying of the doctor's wife outside her fashionable home last July 18.

Suave and pasty-faced, Cody, described by a previous witness as a shady character and self-described ladies' man, was brought here from Minneapolis where he is serving a workhouse term on a misdemeanor bad check charge. Under prosecution prodding he testified he took a $330 down payment to go from Las Vegas, Nev., to Los Angeles and kill Mrs. Finch but said he never intended to go through with it. He said he was to get the rest of $1,400 when the job was done.

Cody also said he tried to talk Carole out of having the doctor's 36-year-old wife killed.

Carole Provided Maps

Cody said he flew to Los Angeles on Friday, July 3, but never went near the Finches' West Covina home or a Hollywood motel where Mrs. Finch often stayed. Earlier he had testified that Carole had drawn maps of the two locations.

Cody said he returned to Las Vegas the following Sunday night. Cody said when he told Carole he had killed Mrs. Finch she handed him another envelope with hundred dollar bills in it.

"I don't know how many, maybe six or seven. I don't know," Cody said.

"She was smiling. It was the first time I had ever seen her so happy. I asked her how come she was so happy. She said she was happy because the job had been taken care of," Cody testified.

Tawes Says He Won't Ask For New Taxes

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Gov. Tawes said Tuesday he won't ask for new taxes in his budget message next month.

He said in a speech to the local Lions Club, "I have felt that it was my first duty to keep the budget within the existing tax framework."

The governor has plenty of surplus to work on anyway, so his announcement was no surprise.

Md. Farm Assessment Act Held Unconstitutional

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals Tuesday declared unconstitutional Maryland's Farm Assessment Act, which permits lower tax assessments for agricultural land.

The high court said the law "fails to meet two requirements of a valid tax exemption, reasonableness and public purpose."

"It seems to us unnecessary to reach a broad, general conclusion as to whether a partial exemption in favor of agricultural lands as against others is permissible under our constitution," the high court said.

Associate Judge Stedman Prescott filed a dissenting opinion.

The majority opinion, written by Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune, held that the law, enacted in 1956, does not favor farmers but de-

PAID TO KILL — Jack Cody, so-called shady character of the Finch murder trial, walks from the courtroom yesterday after he testified that he and Carole Tregoff "dickered" over a price for killing Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch and finally settled on $1,400. The 29-year-old Cody said he spent the money gambling and never carried out the deal. Carole and Dr. R. Bernard Finch are being tried on a murder charge in the death of Mrs. Finch. (AP Photo-fax)

Castro Regime Tightens Grip On Cuba Press

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government took a tighter grip on the Cuban press Tuesday through a control-by-the-workers strategy that many fear will be extended to other businesses.

Jorge Zayas, publisher of Avance, an afternoon daily, sharply critical of the Castro regime, has taken refuge in Ecuador's embassy, an associate said.

He refused to permit employees to append "notes of rectification" to news stories and editorials which they regard as unfair to the government.

The workers took over publication of the paper Monday. A committee of employees headed by newspaperman Juan Gomez, a former reporter, Tuesday named a provisional administrative board of editorial and shop workers to continue publication of Avance.

No executives were on hand at Avance. Gomez said all 150 employees are helping to put out the paper.

Information, another independent paper, adopted other tactics. It announced it will challenge the workers' right to pin the notes to stories by appealing to the Tribunal of Social and Constitutional Guarantees. The appeal will be based on Cuba's fundamental law, approved by the Castro Cabinet, dealing with freedom of expression and other rights.

The campaign against Cuba's independent press began recently with a directive from the Union of Editorial and Printshop Workers to its members to combat news from abroad which they consider hostile to the Castro regime. The workers were told to attach notes of rectification at the bottom of objectionable stories, labeling the news as untrue and unethical. Later the workers were told to tag editorials also.

The campaign developed with an assisting nudge from Castro, who rejected an appeal by the independent publishers to intervene.

Workmen Battle To Turn Lava Flow

KAPOHO, Hawaii (UPI) — Workmen using 20 bulldozers threw up a 1,500-foot long dike Tuesday in an attempt to turn the flow of lava that threatens Kapoho village with fiery destruction.

A similar dike Monday failed to save scenic Warm Springs, a popular resort area whose pools first were heated by a volcanic eruption 120 years ago.

SAS Airliner Crash Kills 41 Of 42 Aboard

Twin-Jet Caravelle Falls Within Sight Of Ankara Airport

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A twin-jet plane of Scandinavian Airlines plunged explosively into a hilltop within sight of Ankara's airport Tuesday night, killing 41 of the 42 persons aboard.

The crash raised another mystery in the series of baffling recent plane crashes in widely separated parts of the world.

Some eyewitnesses said the plane appeared to explode high in the air when it was due to approach the airport. Others said they saw flames as the plane roared down. Still others said the explosion and fire followed the crash.

Airport experts said that although the weather was not ideal it had nothing to do with the crash.

"The crash was caused by technical reasons, not the weather," one said.

Heavy Rain And Wind

The plane encountered heavy rain and wind as it approached Ankara.

It was the first commercial disaster of the sleek French-built Caravelle jet. The type has been in service about a year.

The plane, bound from Stockholm and Copenhagen to the Middle East, carried 35 passengers and a crew of 7. Scandinavian Airlines at first reported there were 35 passengers and 5 crewmen.

SAS said the passengers included at least 2 Britons, one American and one Canadian.

The crash came just 5 minutes before the plane was due to land. The pilot made a routine radio check with the airport control tower, reporting altitude at 6,500 feet and saying he was letting down for a landing. He got clearance. Then no more was heard.

But airport workers saw a bright flash in the distance and alerted rescuers.

When they reached the scene they found the wreckage scattered over 300 square yards. Half the plane lay on one slope of the hill about 75 yards high and the rest on another slope.

Bodies were strewn over 100 yards.

The sole survivor is a woman who is reported in critical condition.

Snowstorms Hit Both Coasts

By The Associated Press
Paralyzing snowstorms hit along the nation's north Atlantic and north Pacific coasts Tuesday.

In between the wintry blasts, arctic air chilled wide sections of the country.

A rare 24-hour snowfall virtually paralyzed the Portland, Ore., area — a region usually warmed by Pacific Ocean winds. The snow, ranging up to a foot, closed all schools and many business establishments and blocked main highways.

By midday, the storm that blanketed the Northeast with heavy snow moved off the New England coast. But it left parts of New England wallowing in knee-deep snow.

A hard overnight freeze was forecast from Mississippi into Georgia and northern Florida.

The fast-moving storm traveled from the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle to New England causing at least 23 deaths, mostly in traffic accidents. There were 7 deaths in Nebraska, 5 in Colorado, 4 in Illinois, 3 in Wisconsin, 2 in New York and 1 each in Texas and Maine.

Gates Says U.S. Strong Enough To Deter Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Defense Department officials briefed Senators Tuesday on the state of U. S. arms. Afterward Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said that "at present I think we are strong enough to prevent an attack, except by a madman."

Other senators who heard Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. behind closed doors came away with similar impressions.

Gates, newly promoted to the top Pentagon post, appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee, accompanied by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In a statement made public outside the hearing room, Gates declared there is no gap in U. S. capability to deter the Soviet Union from starting a general war. He said there is "a clear balance heavily in our favor."

"There is no question that the Soviet Union is a formidable power," said Gates, acknowledging that the Kremlin is building a missile arsenal and may have more long range rockets than this country owns.

"But the impression in some quarters that the Soviet Union has overtaken or even outdistanced the United States in military power is simply not supported by the facts," Gates added.

The new secretary of defense stated anew the Eisenhower administration military doctrine that a combination of missiles, manned bombers and other advanced weapons gives the United States a big enough nuclear counterpunch to discourage any attack.

While saying emphasis in U. S. planning continues to shift from manned bombers to missiles, Gates said both must be kept on the firing line for the foreseeable future.

The Pentagon chief contended that manned bombers "can deliver greater destructiveness with greater accuracy" than missiles. However, he told the Congress members U. S. production of ocean-spanning missiles is growing. And he stressed the value of U. S. Navy carrier striking forces.

Only last week, Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the Supreme Soviet that the Soviet Union, is abandoning production of bombers in favor of missiles.

Scofflaw Title Costly

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new king of the scofflaws was crowned Tuesday.

The title brought him a year in prison and a $10,000 fine.

A scofflaw is a motorist who scoffs at the law by tearing up traffic tickets.

William B. Thompson, 31, an unemployed Negro cook, admitted he scoffed at a total of 180 tickets.

Polio Foundation Honors Boston's "First Family"

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John F. Collins of Boston and his family were named Tuesday the National Foundation's 1960 March of Dimes family of the year. He accepted the citation from a wheelchair.

It was the first time the foundation had so honored an entire family. Four of the six members of the Collins family have had polio.

Collins, 40, was stricken with polio in 1955 and is not completely recovered. Three of his children, Patricia, 11, John Jr., 9, and Thomas, 7, also came down with the disease but completely recovered.

Kennedy Wis. Entry Expected

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A quick and perhaps, decisive test of strength between Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in their quest for the Democratic presidential nomination now is virtually assured in the April 5 Wisconsin primary.

Humphrey announced his entry several weeks ago. Kennedy's office announced Tuesday he was flying from Washington for a Milwaukee news conference Thursday morning. He said earlier that if he decided to enter the Wisconsin primary, he would come to Wisconsin to make his formal announcement, and no one hinted that this trip was for any other purpose.

The Wisconsin primary, a traditional testing ground for presidential hopefuls, is best remembered for the sudden finish it wrote to the late Wendell Willkie's aspirations. High stakes will be riding on it again, since Humphrey already has said if he does not win in Wisconsin, he will withdraw from the race.

Report No Proof Bomb Caused Airliner Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — A well-placed source said Tuesday federal investigators have turned up no physical evidence to prove that a bomb caused the North Carolina plane crash which killed 34 persons Jan. 6.

The source said the investigators, while still inclined to believe a suicide bomb scheme precipitated the crash, never have overlooked the possibility of other causes — possibly sudden decompression in the pressurized ship.

The wreckage of the National Airlines plane is being reconstructed at Wilmington, N.C., by Civil Aeronautics Board and FBI experts. They hope to find evidence as to just what happened.

Oscar Bakke, director of the CAB Safety Bureau, told the Senate Aviation subcommittee at a public hearing last week that if a bomb had exploded, the case could be solved easily.

Bakke made much of the fact that one of the victims, New York attorney Julian Andrew Frank, had taken out nearly $900,000 worth of life and accident insurance since April.

The investigation has centered on a possibility that Frank carried a bomb aboard the plane on a suicide mission, but FBI and other government agents also were reported checking on whether accidental or a murderous bombing by someone else may have been responsible.

Senate investigators will receive a secret report Wednesday from federal agents on the North Carolina crash and one in the Gulf of Mexico last November.

Vote Registrar Plan Held Legal By North Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Northern senators and the Negro member of the Civil Rights Commission argued Tuesday it would be constitutional to set up federal voting registrars to insure Negro voting rights in the South.

The senators, Jacob J. Javits (N.Y.) and Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.), gave their arguments in person to the Senate Rules Committee. The Negro commissioner, George M. Johnson of Washington, sent the committee a statement of his views.

The question of constitutionality has become more important since last Wednesday when President Eisenhower told his news conference he didn't know whether the federal registrar arrangement would be legal under the constitution.

Southern senators have called the idea unconstitutional from the time it was first proposed last September by the Federal Rights Commission.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), chairman of the Rules Committee, said he has invited Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to testify as soon as possible. It would be Rogers' job to advise the President as to the constitutionality of the plan, and the committee would like to have his opinion.

Under this plan, temporary federal registrars could be empowered to register would-be voters in areas where it is found that local or state officials prevent them from qualifying to vote.

Arsonists Attempt To Burn Synagogue

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) — City authorities announced Tuesday that arsonists tried last week to set fire to a synagogue in Amberg, a small town near here.

The blaze was discovered in an annex to the synagogue and quickly put out by firemen without damage to the main building.

Treaty Gives Former Foe Equal Status

Eisenhower Hails "Indestructible" New Partnership

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan signed Tuesday a historic treaty which President Eisenhower said sets up a new "indestructible partnership" between this country and its former foe.

Eisenhower and Japan's Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi joined in ushering in the pact which raises Japan—a defeated, disarmed and occupied enemy after World War II—to the status of equal partner in the free world camp.

The President did not sign the document. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter acted for the United States.

White House Ceremony

More than 70 top officials from the two countries gathered for the signing ceremony in the East Room of the White House. In this room, President James Buchanan received the first Japanese envoys a century ago.

One of the U.S. signers was Douglas MacArthur II, ambassador to Japan. His uncle led U.S. forces to victory over Japan 15 years ago.

Kishi once was jailed by the Allies as a war criminal. He had been a high official in the wartime Japanese government.

But there was not a single reference to the war bitterness in the glowing speeches.

Under the 1,000-word treaty, similar in many ways to pacts this country has with 41 other free world Allies, the United States pledges to come to Japan's defense in case of armed attack on Japan.

U. S. Retains Use Of Bases
Japan grants the United States use of military bases in Japan without time limit.

Tokyo wins a say in U.S. activities which might affect Japan's interest in the Far East.

And the two countries promise to cooperate economically, and to settle any disputes between them by peaceful means.

Signing for Japan were Kishi and four aides headed by Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama. The three American signers were led by Herter.

Earlier, Kishi met with Eisenhower for nearly two hours. Results of the talks were not immediately announced. Another meeting was set for Wednesday.

Kishi bore an invitation from Emperor Hirohito for Eisenhower to visit Japan this year. The President so far has scheduled trips to Latin America next month and to the Soviet Union in June.

Elections Bill Wins First Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Tuesday to apply federal controls on the financing of primary election campaigns for federal offices.

The 50-39 roll call vote was the first test of strength in a battle over putting more teeth in a bill to revise the 35-year-old Corrupt Practices Act.

The bill would require more detailed reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures, and would raise legal spending limits.

But, like present law, it would originally have applied only to general elections for federal officials.

The amendment to extend the legislation to cover primaries, caucuses and nominating conventions was offered by Sens. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) and Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.).

They contended this was essential since, in about one-third of the states, nomination in the primaries amounts to election.

Nixon Makes Entry In N.H. Race Official

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon officially entered New Hampshire's presidential preference primary Tuesday with a message of thanks to citizens who previously had filed his name.

The first-in-the-nation primary March 8 was entered Monday by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.). Neither he nor Nixon has any serious competition.

Nixon sent this telegram to New Hampshire Secretary of State Harry Jackson:

"I am grateful to the citizens of New Hampshire who expressed their confidence in me through petitions filed in your office. I am pleased to submit my name to the Republicans of your state."

'Spooks' At It Again, Jones Family Says

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Jones family was jumping again Tuesday. "I don't know what to do about it," Jones said disgustedly. Objects in the house of Edgar G. Jones, a retired Baltimore fireman, began flying and exploding late Tuesday morning after a day and half of quiet.

The spooky happenings started last Thursday morning in the two-story, brick rowhouse occupied by the Jones, his wife, his daughter and son-in-law and the 17-year-old grandson of the Joneses. They also have a dog.

Pottery pieces shattered, flew through the air and bottles popped.

Reporters and photographers converged on the house on the northern edge of Baltimore City Monday morning.

Then Jones reported Tuesday: "A dining room chandelier started swinging violently."

A heavy floor lamp toppled over. An artificial Christmas tree flew two feet into the air.

Several mop handles fell to the floor.

An ink bottle exploded.

A ceramic flower pot blew up. A stack of eight silver coasters took off and scattered around the room.

$35,000 For 14 Cents

LONDON (AP)—A shilling—14 cent—gamble out of her old age pension Tuesday brought a 75-year-old great-grandmother a football pool dividend of 12,500 pounds—$35,000. The winner, Sarah Champ, said she plans to spend part of the money on a holiday "in the sunniest part of Italy I can find." She is a widow.

Soviet Pacific Tests Linked To Mars Shot

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet use of the central Pacific as a rocket proving ground may lead to a shot at Mars and a new drive to the moon.

Strong indications of this have been given by Soviet astronomers in interviews and in articles in Soviet newspapers and scientific magazines. It apparently adds up to something besides talk.

The Soviet government early this month warned all shipping and planes to steer clear, from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15, of a 45,000-square-mile zone southwest of Hawaii while it conducted experiments with powerful new rockets. It said heavy first or second stages might fall in the area.

This followed publication in the last 1959 issue of the Soviet Academy of Sciences Bulletin of an article detailing what would be needed in new moon projects and what might be done about photographing Mars through a telescope on a satellite.

The Soviet Union rarely announces in advance what it is planning to do, but the scientists' talk appears to point to a possible double project before the end of the test period Feb. 15.

Prof. G. V. Petrovich, writing in the academy bulletin outlined what the Russians hope to do with a telescope-equipped satellite.

"The development of a heavy well-oriented artificial satellite equipped with a powerful telescope which could be automatically aimed by remote control might lift the curtain which from time immemorial has concealed space from the human eye," Petrovich said.

"Owing to the transparency of the Martian atmosphere, it will be possible to study the surface of Mars by means of telescopes installed on artificial satellites of the earth or Mars or on space probes."

"It is essential, however, to insure good quality transmission of photographs to the earth. Any distortions in transmission of the images would greatly offset the advantages of the extraterrestrial observatory or even reduce them to naught."

"The best thing of course would be to recover the magazine with the films."

Although the article was written before the dates were announced for the Jan. 15-Feb. 15 experiments, this reference to recovery of films pointed to a possibility that some such operation may be attempted in the Pacific.

Murphy Admits Slaying Wife

BEL AIR, Md. (AP)—A North Carolina sheriff said Tuesday night a Maryland man has admitted slaying his wife at Saddle Mountain, N. C., late last month. Charged with murder was Frank Murphy, 50, a carpenter and father of four, ranging in age from 10 to 23.

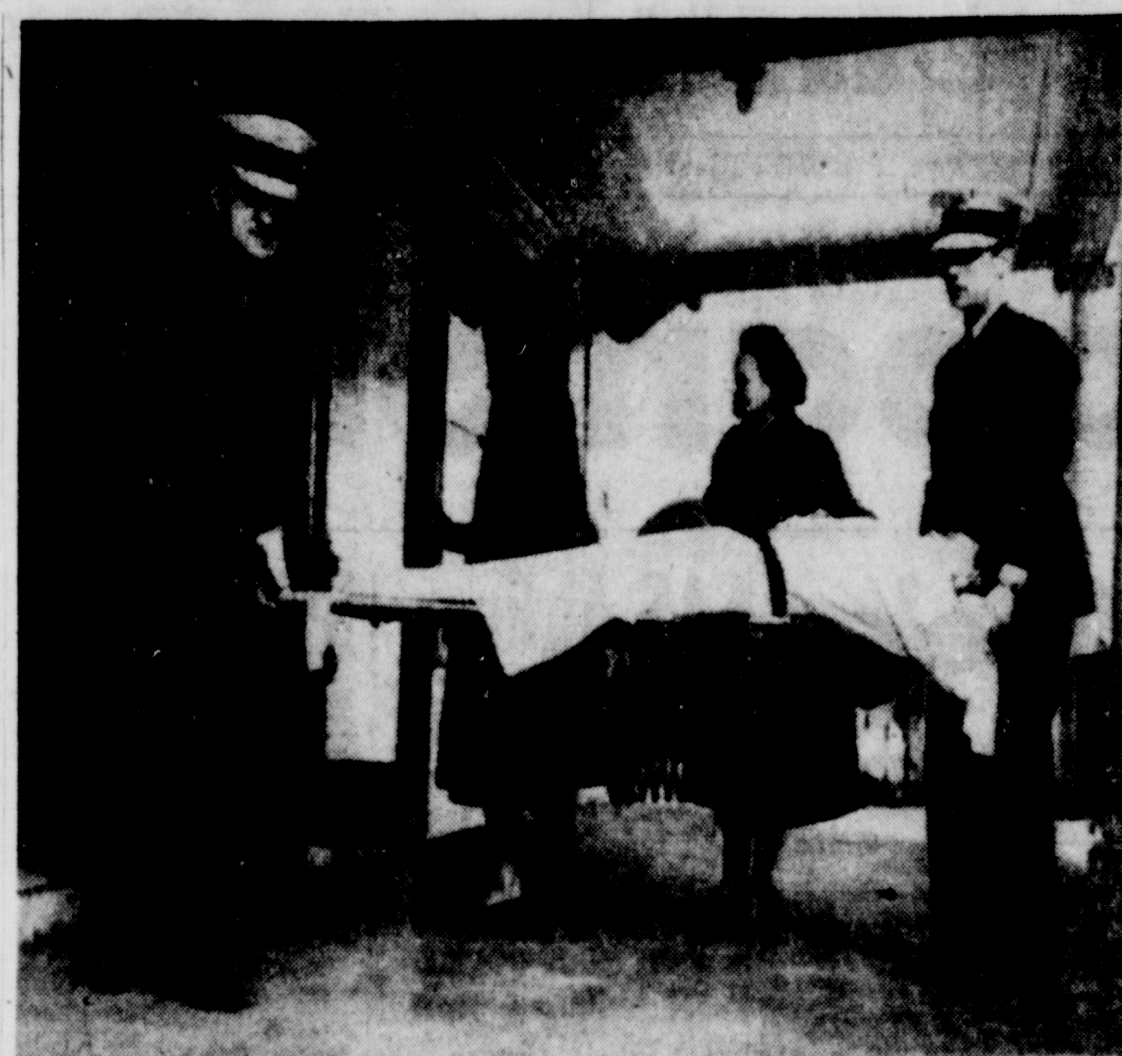

Sheriff Floyd Roupe of Sparta, N. C., who arrived early Tuesday night to question Murphy, said the prisoner had "admitted to everything."

Roupe said Murphy had told of traveling to North Carolina after his ailing wife had gone there Dec. 14 to be with friends. "He said he had smothered her with his hands and then tied a cord around her neck," Roupe quoted Murphy.

The body of his wife Grace was missing since Dec. 28. It was found Sunday in the Saddle Mountain area near her home, buried in a shallow grave covered with leaves.

The sheriff said Murphy gave as his reason for slaying her "that she had been a lot of trouble."

Mrs. Murphy suffered from arthritis and a kidney ailment.

ELDERLY WIDOW CARRIED TO COURT — Mrs. Martha W. Schaefer, 78, who has defied Cincinnati police and state officials in their efforts to confiscate her driver's license, is carried by stretcher from her suburban home after refusing to appear in court voluntarily. Later, in traffic court, Mrs. Schaefer was fined $29 and her license confiscated. The state drivers' license department has held her vision is faulty. (AP Photofax)

Conviction In Each Of 4 Car Crash Deaths Upheld

SALISBURY (AP) — A circuit 50 in Salisbury with a vehicle occupied by Moses Freda, a divinity student from Clifton, N. J., his wife and their two young daughters, was sentenced Tuesday to the maximum of three years and fined him $1,000 on each of four charges of manslaughter by automobile.

He also sentenced him to two years and fined him $1,500 more on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and making a false affidavit in applying for a driver's license.

George Bahen Jr., court-appointed counsel for Roberts under Maryland's Post-Conviction Procedure Act, unsuccessfully argued that, since the four deaths resulted from a single action, his client was placed in double jeopardy by having each case tried separately.

Judge Taylor said there seemed to be no Maryland Court of Appeals decision directly on this point. Decisions in other jurisdictions, he said, were in conflict.

Court-Martial Civilian Ban Poses Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Congress and the government were asked Tuesday to come forth quickly with ways for handling the prosecution of American civilians accused of crimes while serving with U.S. military forces overseas.

This followed on the heels of Monday's Supreme Court ruling that peacetime court-martial trials of civilians violate the constitutional right to trial by jury. This applies whether the civilians work for the military or are dependents of those who do, and regardless of the crime.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), in a statement, called on the Justice and Defense departments to say what their plans are to deal with the situation. Both departments have declined comment until they can study the court's opinions.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), introduced a resolution to set up a special seven-man Senate committee to explore ways of giving federal courts jurisdiction over the civilian defendants.

The court's decision, Keating said, "affects the safety of almost half a million Americans accompanying our armed forces overseas, and could lead to many potentially very serious international incidents."

Suicide In Woman's Fire Death Indicated

SALISBURY (AP) — The death of an 81-year-old woman in a fire was described today as a possible suicide resulting from her refusal to enter an institution.

Mrs. Ella Holloway, a Negro woman about 4-foot-6 and weighing about 50 pounds, died in the fire at her home Sunday.

Fire officials said she was found in a crouched position on the kitchen floor and had died of suffocation.

Fire Chief Charles W. Mitchell said a two-gallon can of kerosene was found and a bed had been splashed with the liquid.

Mitchell said neighbors told investigators Mrs. Holloway had expressed a fear that she was about to be placed in an institution.

Tawes To Ask $224,300 For Maryland Microwave Communications Network

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes his capital improvements program will recommend to the Legislature to be submitted to the General Assembly that $224,300 be appropriated for the microwave communications network. The system is expected to cost four million dollars when completed, with the state contributing approximately $2,200,000 and the federal government paying the rest.

The project will be spread over four years. The microwave system will be used by the State Police, State Roads Commission, Tidewater Fisheries, Department of Forests and Parks and other departments as well as the Civil Defense Agency.

Sherley Ewing, director of civil defense, said the network will provide an electronic radio tie-in between the state and every county governmental headquarters. It will function as a command system in the event of national emergency.

Initial spending calls for $25,000 to acquire land for a main communications building. This will be located in Baltimore County not far from state CD headquarters at Pikesville.

Six microwave stations will be set up in various sections of the state. Tawes has approved $199,300 for the first phase of engineering, construction and equipment for the program.

In addition he is approving $49,400 to supplement federal funds in beefing up the Civil Defense Agency's present emergency communications service, manned by amateur radio operators using their own equipment. This will function as a primary communications system until the new system is in operation. It will then provide a secondary communications system.

The governor also announced Tuesday that he has approved $270,000 in capital expenditures for the military department. Major items are $125,000 for construction and remodeling of facilities at the Martin Co. airfield to accommodate National Guard units and $100,000 to acquire land in northeast Baltimore for a medical battalion armory.

He will request $25,000 for construction and remodeling of facilities at the Army Chemical Center in Edgewood to accommodate the 29th Division Aviation Unit of the National Guard. The appropriation is contingent upon execution of a long-term use by the State of the chemical center's airfield.

Other requests for the military department are $10,000 for the state's share of street construction and parking facilities at the Northwest Baltimore Armory and $10,000 to construct a parking area at the Catonsville Armory.

To Hinge On West

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—The Soviet ambassador to Sweden has indicated that further Soviet troop reductions will hinge on similar moves by the West. In a rare news conference Monday, ambassador Fyodor Gusev said the Soviet Union considered its current manpower cuts as "the first step along the road to general disarmament." "But can the Soviet Union be called upon to weaken its defenses when other nations are arming themselves?" he asked.

Baltimore Court Upsets State's Comic Book Act

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State's Crime Comic Books Act, designed to keep obscene publications out of the hands of minors, was upset Tuesday by Superior Court Judge Reuben Oppenheimer.

The law was held to be a violation of constitutional provisions of due process, equal protection of laws and freedom of the press.

The judge cited similar findings by the U. S. Supreme Court and high courts of several states. The statutes Judge Oppenheimer ruled on were the Maryland 1959 amendments.

These aimed at prohibiting sale or display of comic books or other publications that are obscene or otherwise morally offensive to boys and girls under 18.

It was one of the most hotly contested issues before the General Assembly last year. The House Judiciary Committee took great pains to try to write it within constitutional limits.

Distributors attacking the law were Siegel Book and Magazine Store and Charles Book Center, both of Baltimore. The plaintiffs' attorneys argued against the provisions which declared it unlawful to sell or distribute or permit viewing by children of comic or picture books dealing with bloodshed, lust or immorality.

Also objected to was the provision making it unlawful for a book store or newsstand to display such publications so that they could be seen from the street.

Judge Oppenheimer said in part in the 17-page decision.

"The due process clause of the 14th Amendment protects persons under 18 as well as adults. The right of young persons to read what they will, within the limits of permissible state or federal action, is vital not only to them but to all our citizenry. The exclusion of obscenity from protected utterances does not carry with it the right to obscure from young or old facts or events, however unpleasant, disturbing or violent."

The judge pointed out that it is in the formative years youth must realize the meaning of liberties protected by the Constitution, as opposed to "attempts to strait-jacket the human mind."

Judge Oppenheimer also said the law failed to give fair notice of what acts might be punished. Three years ago part of the Maryland law was held invalid by Criminal Court Judge Joseph R. Byrnes. That forbid showing to minors publications dealing with news accounts of bloodshed, lust and crime.

Elderly Paralytic Burned To Death In Baltimore Fire

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 78-year-old paralytic burned to death Tuesday when he was trapped by fire in his home in southeast Baltimore.

Police said the victim, known as Walter Grabowski and Wladyslaw Grabowski, lived alone in the two-room dwelling behind a barber shop.

The fire was discovered by Patrolman John Crogan as he walked his beat. Crogan kicked in a door in an attempt to rescue Grabowski but was repelled by flames.

Arson squad investigators probed the ruins of the gutted home to determine the cause of the fire.

Three Persons With Maryland Backgrounds Died In Air Crash

BALTIMORE (AP)—A nun, a student nurse, and a tobacco sales manager with Maryland backgrounds were among the 50 persons killed Monday in the Capital Airlines plane crash near Holdcraft, Va.

The victims included Gail Smith, 19, of Cambridge, Sister Josephine Cavanagh, of Norfolk, Va., and John B. Reilly, 33, of Baltimore.

Miss Smith, a student nurse at Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore, had taken the plane to visit a sister in Norfolk. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arland Smith, now reside in Lima, Peru, where her father is on duty with the U.S. Health Service.

Sister Josephine, who was returning to Norfolk from a St. Louis conference of nursing school officials, was a former supervisor of the railroad platform on the South Side Tuesday.

J. D. Hospelhorn Acting Md. Bank Commissioner

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Tuesday named a 44-year career man, John D. Hospelhorn, as acting state bank commissioner.

Hospelhorn, who has been deputy commissioner since 1953, succeeds William F. Hilgenberg, who died last month.

The governor's office said the 64-year-old Hospelhorn will serve as acting commissioner until June 30.

Hospelhorn has worked under all nine state bank commissioners and is a past president of the National Assn. of Supervisors of State Banks.

He and his wife live in Baltimore.

Short-Cut Flight Plan To Mars

NEW YORK (UPI) — A re-near at the Westinghouse Research engineer Monday proposed search Laboratories, Pittsburgh, a new short-cut flight plan to outlined the plan in a theoretical reach the earth's next-door plan- paper at the sixth annual meet- et, Mars. ing of the American Astronautical Society.

Dr. T. C. Tsu, advisory engi- Society.

Tsu's proposal was unique in that it called for travel to Mars in straight - line flight.

His plan called for a space ship to take off from an orbit around the earth and be powered continuously throughout its journey.

He cited two forms of motive power that seemed to meet the straight-line flight requirements: (1) a solar sail which used the pressure of sunlight acting on a large, thin reflecting surface, and (2) an electric propulsion system, which uses the thrust from the ejection of high temperature gas particles.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's 10 million diaper wearers have something new to "goo" happily about.

It's word that a National Baby Care Council has been formed to make infancy happier and healthier.

The Council, headed by Dr. Ernest G. Osborne, of Teachers College, Columbia University, soon will launch the first nationwide training course for teen-age baby sitters.

The Council also plans all - out war on diaper rash.

Dr. Osborne, professor in the university's Home and Family Life Department, said the young baby sitter of today, unlike the grandmother "sitter" of yesterday, often is untrained in the many problems and needs of the infant.

"She usually has only casual knowledge of the safe way of picking up a baby or of even feeding one," he said.

"She cannot recognize the cries and the needs of the infant in her charge; nor does she know how to deal with many emergencies that may arise."

The training course will be aimed at overcoming "this growing threat to the comfort and well being of infants."

The educational campaign for baby sitters will be given in co-operation with high schools, parent - teacher associations and community service organizations.

It is based on a baby - sitter training program developed—and tested—in cooperation with schools in Pittsburgh, Pa.

On the second of the Council's fronts, diaper rash, Dr. Osborne had this to say:

"Diaper rash is a problem that cannot be brushed off too lightly. Leading pediatricians have shown that it often may be the cause of more serious illnesses in babies.

"Medical research scientists have established the means of preventing them. That is why one of the first nationwide projects of the Council will be to distribute this information to mothers of diaper-age children.

"We will show these mothers that the prevention of diaper rash is not only possible but practical."

Further areas of action will be determined by the Council's board of directors. On it are representatives from the fields of medicine, public health, nursing, research, social service, hospitals, education, community organizations and communications.

The Council is a voluntary public service organization concerned with the promotion of health, education and welfare of babies. It is financed by diaper services — a 50 million-dollar-a-year industry serving one million infants.

Dr. Osborne was the program coordinator for the National Conference on Family Life held at the White House in 1948. He has com-

Hunting And Fishing's Future May Lie In Shooting Preserves, Pond Angling

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fisherman and the hunter may be following the Indian — onto reservations.

There are now 1,300 shooting preserves in the United States and on about 40 per cent of them you can, for a fee, shoot pen-raised pheasant, quail, partridge and mallards. Others may give a chance at bigger game.

Pond fishing for bass and bluegill, again for a fee, is rapidly becoming more attractive to fishermen than the long and costly trek into the hills in search of the wary brook trout.

It is small wonder. There are now nearly 180 million people in the United States and 35 million of them own hunting or fishing licenses.

By 1957 the population is expected to reach 215 to 230 million and if the present trend continues there will be 40 to 45 million hunters and fishermen.

Hunting and fishing as millions of Americans now know it is undergoing a drastic change, brought about by people, progress and pollution.

Daniel H. Janzen, director of the Interior Department's Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife, said in an interview:

"Population is encroaching on environment. Man is moving in, in all sorts of ways. As he grows in numbers he needs more space. He is changing the whole face of the sea coasts, for example, to make way for housing development or marsh he is destroying the feeding or breeding grounds of ducks and some small animals."

Along the great Mississippi flyway, natural drought and the draining of swamps has complicated life for migratory birds and other small game such as beaver, otter and muskrats.

What is the future for the fisherman and the hunter? "Everybody," said Janzen, "is going to have to be satisfied with less."

Right now the bureau is worried about the dwindling numbers of canvashacks, redheads and ruddys, ducks whose migrations once filled the skies in the spring and fall.

While deer and wild turkeys have exhibited a remarkable ability to cope with encroaching civilization, other game is retreating. Streams which were once were a fisherman's dream are now polluted beyond belief with wastes, chemicals and mud.

All over the nation the rains which once were soaked up by forestlands now run off cut-over fields, filling streams with mud and sometimes carrying chemicals poisonous to aquatic life.

Not the least of the bureau's problems these days is the widespread use of powerful insecticides and herbicides. Sometimes minute quantities of these chemicals are fatal to small mammals and birds.

In his annual report to Congress, Janzen noted that in 1934 the nation had 120 million acres of marsh and wetlands suitable for ducks. Today there are only 30 million acres.

The bureau estimated that 7½ million protected acres are needed to preserve the duck population. It now owns about 3,270,000 acres, about half what it needs.

The efforts by the federal government and the states to preserve or restore wildlife normally have had the consistent support of nearly two million dedicated conservationists, such as members of the Izaak Walton League and the Wilderness Society.

They have fought vigorously to save millions of acres of public lands for recreational purposes and as wildlife refuges.

In the past 12 years the bureau has distributed literally thousands of game animals to the states in

Radioactivity Survey By Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — A twin-engine airplane trailing a bright red object about 50 feet below and behind the plane will be flying low in the Washington-Baltimore area during the next several weeks.

Passengers will be scientists of the Geological Survey making an airborne radioactivity survey under sponsorship of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The plane will fly at about 500 feet above the ground, under a special waiver from the Federal Aviation Agency.

The Geological Survey Monday said the flights may start Jan. 20, covering about 10,000 square miles between Richmond, Va., on the south, Baltimore on the north, Chesapeake Bay on the east and Culpeper, Va., on the west.

The red object will contain a detecting element of a magnetometer. This instrument measures the intensity of the earth's magnetic field, and thus will provide data useful in studying the earth's geological conditions.

The low-level flights will be made on east-west lines about a mile apart during daylight hours and in good weather. Flight lines have been adjusted to make it unnecessary to fly over the White House or the Naval Observatory. The Geological Survey said the flights will cause a minimum of interference with normal civil and military air traffic in the area.

Red Chinese Unity Noted In Report

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A report prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Monday that only a "small percentage" of the people in Red China are resisting the Communist regime. The report also said there was evidence of "large-scale popular support" for economic and social change.

The study was conducted by the Library of Congress at the request of Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wis., ranking Republican on the committee. He urged this country to take "a new, hard look" at its development before it settles down to a trading range.

Wiley said it showed that if the Red Chinese regime accomplishes internal unity and economic expansion continues, "China may in a few years rank as one of the great powers."

"This we must recognize and prepare for," the senator said. "We cannot turn heads the other way."

Wall Street Views

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market is basically sound but appears tired and in need of a rest from its year-end climb, a Wall Street analyst said Monday.

The opinion was offered by the Fitch survey.

"The pounding which the market has taken since the turn of the year may be the worst which it may experience over the near future," Fitch said, "and some corrective sagging could actually develop before it settles down to a trading range."

"Once the fat of many overpriced securities is trimmed away—a process which may develop off and on through February—we look for the market's bounce to return."

Fitch said it looks for a continued modest drift with light volume on the downside but that selective strength may be expected.

to make itself felt where corporate news is encouraging.

"The soundest approach to new commitments at the present time," the analyst said, "is one which encourages strict selectivity based on existing values—such stocks would be least vulnerable to further market reverberations."

Standard & Poor's Corp. expressed the belief the stock market owes its advance in recent years more to a spirit of business confidence and fear of inflation than to expansion of corporate profits.

It points out that in terms of Standard & Poor's industrial index, stock prices are 46 per cent higher than at the end of 1957.

Yet earnings in that year were $3.50 a share, compared with an estimated $3.60 in 1959.

The index recently stood at 18 times earnings.

"While it is quite possible that the market may have established temporary highs," says Shearson, Hammill & Co., "it is also very probable that many stocks will continue to make new highs. Based on the action of the rails, it would not be surprising to see this group perform much better than many industrials."

The body of a typical adult man contains slightly more than five quarts of blood.

Landmark Razed

BERLIN (AP)—Explosions set off by wrecking crews over the weekend virtually destroyed the last of the 300-year-old City Castle in Potsdam. The structure was badly damaged in World War II. Western architects believed it could be rebuilt, but the City Council of Potsdam, in Communist East Germany, decided last fall to tear it down.

W. Va. Man Killed In Highway Crash

Icy U. S. Route 50 near Oakland Monday claimed the life of a Clarksburg, W. Va. man who was involved in a two-vehicle accident.

The victim was identified as Jerome James Donnellon, 43, of 413 Seventh Street, Clarksburg. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Donnellon becomes the first highway fatality of 1960 in nearby Garrett County. Allegany County suffered its first fatal accident on January 5 when Frederick E. Hook, 25, of Keyser, died in Pottomac Valley Hospital of injuries sustained in a one-car mishap at McCoolle on January 3.

The highway death rate in Allegany and Garrett counties is running a little ahead of schedule this year when compared to last year's report which showed the second fatal accident occurring on January 28.

Clarysville Man Granddad Twice In Three Days

A Clarysville man, Russell McMurdo, is sporting a broad smile these days, and there are two "big" reasons for it. He became a grandfather twice within three days.

His daughter, Mrs. William C. Lyons, of 1916 Lewis Avenue, Rockville, gave birth to a son, John Joseph, last Friday in Prince Georges County Hospital. She is the former Miss Margaret McMurdo. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Genevieve Lyons, of Hoffman.

His son's wife, Mrs. Daniel McMurdo, of 3900 Hamilton Street, Hyattsville, gave birth to a daughter, Tammie Adele, last Tuesday in the same hospital. She is the former Miss Donna Jean Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meyers, Washington Street, Frostburg.

Mrs. Simpson Seeks Seat Held By Her Husband

Pa. Representative
Died January 7

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Richard M. Simpson announced Tuesday she will seek the House seat in Pennsylvania's 18th Congressional district vacated by the death of her husband Jan. 7.

She said she would "consider it an honor and a privilege to continue Mr. Simpson's work on behalf of the 18th Congressional District and the Republican Party."

"It appears that the sentiment in our district indicates that I present myself as a candidate for Congress to carry on the principles and philosophies for which Mr. Simpson so firmly stood," her statement said.

Simpson died about a month after undergoing brain surgery at the Bethesda, Md., Naval Medical Center.

A resident of Huntingdon, Pa., Simpson had represented the 18th District since 1937. He was chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee and a ranking minority member of the House Ways and Means Committee at the time of his death.

Mrs. Simpson was his second wife. They were married in 1948, three years after the death of his first wife.

Earlier Tuesday, Republican leader in Somerset County, Pa., Whalley, Windber, as the party's candidate to succeed Simpson at a special election in the eight-county district.

The special election will be held April 26 as part of the primaries. Somerset County GOP leaders Monday night named 21 representatives to meet with 69 other party conferees at Huntingdon next Monday. They will name the party's candidate.

Whalley, an automobile dealer, is serving his second term as state senator representing Somerset, Bedford and Fulton counties.

Would Complete in Primary

Asked whether she would seek the nomination if it meant a primary contest, Mrs. Simpson said, "I think I would."

She said the sentiment in favor of her candidacy originated from political leaders back home.

"I have had expressions from many of them and that's what prompted me to do it," she said.

"During the last 11 years, she said, she has engaged in "considerable" political activity with and without her husband on behalf of the Republican Party. She said this included making speeches for Republican candidates at local, state and national GOP functions.

Speed Law Is Overruled

PIEDMONT — An ordinance giving town police $1 extra on all convictions for speeding as recorded on the electric speedometer was "killed" at a meeting of Mayor Rodney Baker and Council last night.

The ordinance would have raised court costs from $2.50 to $3.50, and the arresting officers would have received the extra dollar.

After the second reading of the ordinance, Mayor Baker stated he did not think it would be wise to adopt the measure. Following the motion of Councilman Elmer J. Shaver, it was squashed.

Thomas Appel, former chief of police and now a constable-at-large, objected to its passage and said it could become a racket. He added that officers are entitled to more money than they are receiving, and he would like to see them get it.

In December the proposed ordinance was unanimously endorsed by the Mayor and Council.

Piedmont cannot raise the salaries of its town employees until the end of the fiscal year June 30. The budget set up last year does not provide for more money for municipal workers.

Piedmont Plans Improvement In Special Levy

PIEDMONT — Mayor Rodney Baker and Council last night announced plans for enacting a special levy of approximately $25,000 for street and water line improvements, pending the approval of town residents.

Improvements would include the resurfacing of West Fairview Street from Child's Avenue to the Luke bridge, from the Luke bridge east a distance of 100 feet long and 18 feet wide and the remainder 2,180 feet long and 24 feet wide. Five entrances to intersecting streets and work on other streets are also planned.

Another project would be the laying of a six-inch water line on East Fairview Street near the Piedmont Grocery Company, down over the hillside and under the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to Water Street. This would give people in the flat ample water at all times and also provide them with necessary fire protection in an emergency.

The levy is expected to be presented to voters at the May 10 primary. If the proposed measure is approved, it would not increase present taxes. Residents would pay the same rate as they are paying on the special levy which was adopted May 13, 1957.

Joseph Maybury, town clerk, reported the town owes the Duncan Parking Meters Company for parking meters; also for hard-surfacing of Number 2 parking lot to the tune of $6,357.11.

Maybury also reported receipts from parking meters and violations for last week amounted to $161.55.

A contract with the Garrett Building and Supply Corporation of Mt. Lake Park for $23,64 for the installation of an overhead door in Tri-Towns Fire Company 1 hall was approved.

An invitation, has been received from Miss Frances Ott, secretary of the Piedmont library, inviting town officials to the opening of the library January 30. The library is sponsored by the Piedmont Woman's Club.

Council ordered that steps on Marshal Street, leading to West Harrison Street, be removed as they are in bad condition. It is planned to resurface that area and grade it, but the work will be deferred until spring.

State Forest Improvement Plan Outlined

Underwood Sees Work For 3,500

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A state forest improvement program that would give some 3,500 idle West Virginians about 200 days of work was outlined Monday by Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and State Conservation Director Warden M. Lane.

The $6,292,595 forest program was the second phase of Underwood's proposed public works program designed to improve tourist and recreational facilities and develop natural resources like timbering and at the same time relieve a portion of the state's unemployment problem. Last Saturday, Underwood and Lane outlined a proposed $6,500,000 state park improvement program and Tuesday Lane will propose stream, lake and game projects costing about $6,000,000.

In his message to the Legislature last week, Underwood suggested that work could begin almost immediately on about $8,000,000 of the already authorized projects. He estimated 4,000 unemployed could be utilized in "old fashioned hand labor."

Of the total forest improvement program, $4,665,596 would be spent not only to improve recreational facilities at the nine state forests, but to double production of lumber in each of the state forests.

Under the governor's State Temporary Economic Program (STEP) for forests, Kumbrow State Forest in Randolph County would get the biggest allocation—$605,894. This would produce 74,600 man-days of work for the idle.

The other state forests and the amounts proposed to be spent at each under the governor's program included:

Cooper's Rock, Monongalia - Preston Counties, $536,594; Seneca, Pocahontas County, $537,094; Panther, McDowell County, $536,094; Cam Creek, Mer County, $530,844; Greenbrier, Greenbrier County, $528,194; Kanawha, Kanawha County, $499,644; Calvin Price, Pocahontas County, $46,094; and Cabwaylingo, Wayne County, $425,144.

Appeal Made For Street Lights Fund

FROSTBURG — John Cook, chairman of the Christmas street light decorations committee of the Frostburg Business Association announced today that the books for 1959-60 will be closed at the end of next week on this past season's activities.

Mr. Cook has appealed to the nearly one hundred businesses which have not yet contributed to the street lights fund this year to mail their checks to Box 294, Frostburg, so that they will be included in this year's promotion.

He has pointed out that this is the only project sponsored by the group in which they ask for financial help.

According to the workmen of the Potomac Edison Company many of the stringers used in the decoration this year have been discarded after having worn out throughout the years. Next year these will have to be replaced and any funds left over after bills have been paid will be used to replace the worn out lights.

The committee also investigated and reported that due to the high winds likely to occur during the Christmas season the same type of lights and decorations will be used in the future unless some civic groups care to donate the $2,500 dollars or more that would be needed to revamp the present set up.

Campers Post Basketball 70-60 Victory Over Bruce

Fort Hill	0	4	.000

The tie for first place in the Western Maryland Interscholastic League standings was inevitably broken last night at Westernport where the two front-runners, Allegany and Bruce, staged a showdown in which the Campers of Allegany came out on top by a 70-60 score.

A pair of two-point squeakers featured the other WMI action. Mt. Savage edged out Fort Hill's luckless Sentinels, 61-59, and Valley nipped Beall, 55-53.

Allegany, with a 4-0 mark, now stands alone at the head of the standings. Bruce and Valley share the runnerup spot with 3-1 records. Beall and Mt. Savage are 1-3, and Fort Hill is the sole occupant of the cellar with an 0-4 log.

Pope Racks Up 34
Mervin Pope, Camper forward, cut loose for 34 points to spark the Allegany quint to its sixth straight win of the season. Coach Chester Payne's team has won seven of ten starts and will go for number eight Friday against city rival Fort Hill at Campobello.

Pope raked the nets for 12 field goals and converted 10 of 12 chances from the free throw line, making more fouls than the entire Bruce team shot. The Bulldogs made only eight trips to the charity stripe, while the Campers got 34 penalty pitches. Bruce out-gaol'd the visitors, 28-24, but scored only four points at the foul line to Alto's 22.

Bill Wright and Bill Wilton, with 19 and 17 points respectively, paced the Westernport cagers in scoring. Wright and center Bob Wilson fouled out for Bruce in the closing moments of the contest.

A last-second field goal by Fay Often gave Mt. Savage its thrilling victory over the Sentinels in a cliff-hanger on the Mt. Savage boards. Fort Hill led by nine points with only three minutes left but the Indians rallied to tie it up and set the stage for Often's game-winning two-pointer. The score was tied 13 times during the struggle.

Lybarger Paces Indians
Rich Lybarger, with 22 points, and Often, with 18, took scoring honors for the Indians. Bill Sheetz collected 17 tallies for the Red Raiders, and was assisted in the scoring department by Bill Colbert and Glen Shipway, who caged 15 and 12, respectively.

In the other league encounter at Lonaconing, Coach Johnny Meyers' Black Knights held an eight point 40-32, lead at the end of the third period, but were outscored 21-15, in the final frame which found a Mountaineer rally falling short. Fred Hall's field goal pulled Beall to within two points with six seconds to go.

Valley's one-two scoring punch of Bill Garlitz and Jim Getty again led the Knights to victory. Garlitz tallied 20 points and Getty was right behind with 19. Jim Evans was the big man in the Beall attack with 18 points. The Mounties outscored Valley from the field, 23-22, but made only seven of 14 free throws to the winners' 11 of 15.

Mathias Beats Oldtown, 76-64

Coach Hoy Dove's Mathias High School floormen broke a five-game losing streak last night when they whipped Oldtown, Mt. High School at Mathias, W. Va., by the score of 76-64.

After a 7-7 tie in the first period, the home team forged to the fore at halftime, 26-17, and stayed there.

P.B. Westfall led the Mathias scorers with 12 goals and a total of 27 points. Hoover was Oldtown's top man with eight baskets and 21 points.

It was Mathias' second win against nine losses. Oldtown has won two and lost seven. Box:

Chamberlain, Cousy To Play For East Team

Meet West Friday In All-Star Tilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie scoring sensation Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia and Boston's Bob Cousy give the East a slight edge over the West in the 10th annual National Basketball Assn. All-Star game here Friday.

Chamberlain, former Kansas All-America who leads the NBA in scoring and rebounding, is a hometown favorite in the first All-Star contest to be played in Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

Cousy, who has been picked on every All-Star team since the came out of Holy Cross in 1950, holds seven of the classic's all-time records, including most points scored (122) and most assists (56).

While the West beat the East 124-108 at Detroit last year, the East still holds the edge in the series 6-3.

The contest will begin at 9 p.m. (EST).

Heading the West squad will be Cincinnati's Jack Twyman, second leading scorer in the NBA, and St. Louis' Bob Pettit, whose 2,015 points last year set a new single season NBA scoring record, and who Sunday night topped the 10,000-point mark in his sixth season.

Put the two-point conversion rule in pro football to eliminate that deadly, dull and automatic kick after a touchdown.

Make Johnny Unitas of Baltimore play both offense and defense to even things up in the National Football League.

Widen the nets in hockey to induce more scoring and reduce the number of ties.

Raise the goal to 12 feet in basketball, and, if necessary, make the hoop smaller before some team scores 20 points.

Wave a batter to first base when the pitcher signals an intentional walk is coming up.

Tennis Hurting
Have a place on all baseball scoreboards showing the crowd what pitchers are warming up in what bullpens—only, of course, in the park where the game is in progress.

Create a "server's circle" at a scientifically determined distance behind the baseline of a tennis court to equalize those big serves and put the game back on basis where crowd-pleasing extended rallies are the rule instead of the exception. Big serves, often non-returnable, are ruining the game.

Have a world body in boxing make the matches for all championship bouts and make promoters bid for the rights (TV included) during a specified period.

Sell special badges at a dollar a throw for all football games entitling the bearer to help tear down the goal posts after a game. Non badge-wearers go to the clinic. Sale of badges would help defray replacement costs.

Flintstone Loses
Flintstone High School's Aggies dropped a close 53-50 decision to the City Recreation League last night at Flintstone. The Aggies' Reed Clingerman scored 23 points in a losing cause, while Hartung and Klavuhn shared 24 tallies for the winners.

Irish Crush Paw Paw By 76-56 Score

Mickey Scaletta Scores 27 Points For Explorer Five

By TED TROXELL
LaSalle's red hot Explorers remained unbeaten last night by running the Paw Paw Pirates into the ground, 76-56, before a good-sized crowd at S.S. Peter and Paul gymnasium. The victory was the 12th in a row for Coach George Geatz's crew.

Paw Paw had given the Explorers a terrific battle before bowing, 50-49, earlier in the season in the West Virginia community, and last night's encounter started out on a similar note, the Pirates leading by a 15-14 margin as the first period ended.

The Explorers, however, cut loose for 29 points in a torrid second quarter which found them bombing the nets for 11 field goals in 21 tries, after having connected on only four of 16 shots from the floor in the opening frame. The half came to a close with LaSalle holding a comfortable 43-24 advantage.

Work With Precision
Coach Geatz, who felt that the Explorers' performance last night was one of the best all season, had his team working with precision on the attack. The ball-hawking Irish cagers drove through the Pirate defenses for layups, set up scoring plays with well-executed assists and scored by stealing the ball before the opposition moved into the forecourt.

Sparkling the second quarter explosion was the Explorers' "big three" — Mickey Scaletta, Mike Long, and Mike Firlie. This trio accounted for all but one of LaSalle's field goals in the period, rattling off nine consecutive points to turn a 14-15 deficit into a 23-15 lead.

Kevin Edmonson, high-scoring forward upon whom the Pirates depend heavily, tossed in nine points in the first quarter, but couldn't find the range in the following period, and his team appeared to falter accordingly.

Edmonson Scores 30
Edmonson regained his shooting eye in the second half and succeeded in cutting LaSalle's margin slightly, although the West Virginians never posed any serious threats. Edmonson, who took scoring honors for the evening with 30 points, caged 11 of them in the third quarter, and added nine more in the fourth.

Scaletta, who leads the city in scoring, pumped in nine field goals in 19 tries, and converted nine of 11 free throws for a 27-point performance, giving him 216 points in 12 games for a per-game average of 18. Firlie contributed 20 points to the cause and Long came through with 16.

LaSalle had a phenomenal night at the foul line, hitting on 20 of 24 chances. The Explorers clicked ten straight times in the first half before Firlie ended the string. The Irish also had a respectable shooting night from the floor—28 for 67—for a percentage of 418.

PVC TEAMS TURN BACK CLOCK 35 YEARS, PIEDMONT DEFEATS RIDGELEY, 10 TO 7

Lions Win Tenth In Row; Romney Bags 11th, 78-42

Piedmont High School and Ridgeley High School turned back the clock about 35 years last night when they put on a control basketball exhibition punctuated by plenty of "freezing" and stalling and scored a total of only 17 points in their regulation game at Ridgeley.

Coach William "Huck" Miers' Piedmont Lions emerged the winner by the score of 10-7 in the lowest scoring game staged in the tri-state area in many moons.

The victory was the 7th in league competition for the undefeated Piedmont quint which led at the quarter, 2-0, at the half, 6-2, and at the close of the third period, 8-3.

How They Scored
Ronald Foster's goal representing all of the scoring in the first period. Baskets by Foster and Wayne Russell gave Piedmont a 6-0 lead before Frank Lambert broke the ice for the Blackhawks with a field goal before the half-time whistle. In the third stanza Richard Russell scored from the field for the Lions and Tom Benson hooped a free throw for Coach Tom O'Connor's team. Field goals by Lambert and Benson cut Piedmont's advantage to one point at 8-7. Fagan scored a foul goal for the visitors and Foster, who was fouled as the final whistle sounded, tossed in the last point of the game.

Make Only 7 Goals
Piedmont outscored Ridgeley 4 to 3 in field goals and 2-1 at the charity stripe. One personal foul was called on Piedmont and four on Ridgeley.

Foster was high scorer for Piedmont with five tallies. Lambert scored four points and Benson garnered three for Ridgeley. Piedmont's overall record now is 10-0. Ridgeley has won three games and lost nine.

Maphis Racks Up 31
Sparked by Bill Maphis, who was back in action after missing one game with an infected foot, Romney High School rolled to its eighth consecutive P.V.C. victory by walloping Fort Ashby High School's Eagles at Romney to the tune of 78-42.

Maphis slammed in 14 field goals and 31 points as the unbeaten Pioneers made their overall 11-0. Maphis' point total reached 115 in 10 games for an average of 31.5. A. D. Hott tossed in 11 points while Donnie Davis collected 10 for Coach Clyde Green's quint.

Romney outscored Fort Ashby 33 to 15, in field goals. The Eagles were limited to 15 baskets from the field. Barnes paced the losers with 15 baskets.

Other P.V.C. Results
In other P.V.C. contests, Moorefield downed Wardsville, 64-44, at the latter place, Petersburg High's Vikings drubbed the Circleville High Indians, 77-49, at Circleville, and the West Virginia School for the Deaf trimmed Capon Bridge High School at Romney, 48-40.

Marlin Evans, Glen Bensenhaver and Doug Yankey with 20, 16 and 14 points, respectively, sparked the attack as Moorefield won and made its P.V.C. record 5-3. Dixon Ordorff, Harry Mathias and Virgil Heishman accounted for 40 of the 44 points made by the Warriors.

Coach Carroll Michael's Petersburg Vikings made a sweep of its two-game series with Circleville by winning by the margin of 28 points. Harold Michael was the "big gun" for the winners with 12 field goals and a total of 30 points. Ernie Nelson dumped in 14 points and Benny Roby contributed 11 tallies. Orville Harper, held to four goals, managed to pace the Circleville offensive with 16 tallies.

Moses Vance's 12 goals and 26 points was the game's high as Coach Malcolm Norwood's Lions from the West Virginia School for the Deaf posted their second win in seven P.V.C. outings. Rova Thorne was Capon Bridge's leading point-maker with 10 baskets and 21 markers.

So upset was Mrs. Unitas that she sent a hot telegram saying that she didn't want Johnny to be a motion picture star, and he assured her over the telephone that he would not. This could very well (Continued On Page 18)

Secrets of Charm by John Robert Powers

The Art Of Refusal

Reams could be written about the Art of Refusal, the soft answer that can turneth away, without wrath. Learning HOW to say no is a classic study in charm for every woman.

It's the WAY you say no that weighs the most. Try to be kind as well as firm. There is no need for abrupt dismissal, for outright rudeness — no matter how provoking the request or the person who is making it. Thus, self-discipline must be studied thoughtfully and practiced thoroughly.

The pleas most difficult to turn down come from the family, from friends and neighbors. The toughest test of all is the telephoned party invitation.

You must cope with all kinds of beckoning . . . without letting go your valid reason for refusal. Without letting go your temper in tactless counter - tactics. You know the techniques (you've probably used them yourself)—wheeling and wearing down, bulldozing or bargaining, accusing, assuming, flattering or flattening . . .

Most impersonal pleas needn't arouse your emotional involvement. The innocent interruption at the door or on the phone is unaware of your mood, the routine of your day, the state of your health and your wallet, the size of your family and your present responsibilities. He knows his very interruption may predispose you to say no; it's one of the risks of making requests without appointments.

Most likely, you are just one on a list . . . and he is just doing his duty with that list, for a living or as a volunteer. Try to listen to him out of courtesy. Your consideration and understanding can make it easier to say no gracefully . . . even to say yes without patronizing martyrdom.

If you must be brief, you can still soften your negative with a positive smile. Or tell them to call or come another time. No one expects you to be a dancing footman to a doorbell or a telephone bell. If you are, you have a right to be annoyed, at yourself.

A brief explanation of your rea-

Ducking plays are quite common in no trump contracts, but today's hand represents something of a curiosity in the fact that declarer was required to duck in two different suits on the first two tricks in order to make three no trump.

West opened the four of clubs, dummy played low and East put up the queen. Declarer permitted him to hold the trick. East decided that the heart suit offered a better prospect so he shifted to the jack. It looked for a moment as though declarer were never hemisphere.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've never written to a column before but I need help from a stranger. My wife's mother lives a few blocks from us. She comes over almost every day. "Grams" (as the kids call her) is a pleasant person and she never gets in my wife's way, but frankly speaking I think she has a screw loose.

She tells our kids that they are of aristocratic blood. The children are 9, 8 and 6, and they're pretty puffed up because of Grams' colorful tales of titled and rich ancestors.

My wife and I know there's not a grain of truth in her stories. She's told the same yarns so many times that she actually believes them.

Should we tell the kids their grandmother is a wee mite off upstairs, or would this be too much of a blow? PLAIN FOLKS

DEAR PLAIN: Tell the kids that Grams is a nice person who likes to make up interesting stories for children. Explain that she is merely entertaining them and is not relating history as it actually happened.

You might also let your kids know that rich and titled ancestors aren't the important thing in America. Every individual has to do something on his own. People can't inherit achievement. Those who try to skate by on the accomplishments of ancestors are considered fools.

DEAR ANN: I'm the type who calls a spade a spade so please clean up my language and print this letter.

I can't stop thinking about that woman who cried on your shoulder because she married a "homely little shrimp." She said she "couldn't have done worse." I'd like to tell her that she COULD have done a lot worse. I married the handsomest guy in town and my gorgeous husband almost cost me my sanity.

I know a man's looks don't determine his morals. But any sap knows a guy who is out-of-this-world handsome gets many more tempting opportunities to go haywire and the weak ones take them.

We weren't married a month when I saw my beautiful husband slipping out the back door of my next-door neighbor's home. (He was supposed to be at work.)

We spent 16 miserable years together. I was never home nights. I was afraid to go anywhere in the evening with friends for fear of running into him with some tramp.

My Adonis died four years ago and now I'm married to a plain looking little guy. But his guileless eyes are beautiful, and his smile is honest. I'm happy for the first time in 20 years.

—MRS. AT PEACE

DEAR MRS. AT PEACE: I received many letters expressing a similar point of view. Most of them came from women who had rotten luck with handsome husbands.

Some letters came from men who found life unbearable with exquisite women. The men who wrote didn't complain because their beautiful wives were unfaithful, however. For the most part their complaints stemmed from their inability to tolerate the stupidity of their magnificent dolls.

One wretched husband from Stamford, Connecticut wrote "Her lovely head was empty. Her eyes looked out, but they did not invite you to look in. It was like being married to the prettiest mannequin in Macy's window. So I left."

To learn the booby-traps of teen-age drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Prices in Stock Market Battered Down Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—Another 3.5 billion dollar loss in stock values pushed to a whopping 15 million dollars, the cut so far in 1960 as the financial community continued to ignore the wealth of good business news in favor of a cautious approach.

In the face of such news items as record personal income, pretty general agreement that Congress won't raise gasoline taxes, boost postage rates or approve some of the spending cutbacks requested by the President, and optimistic business forecasts by the heads of some sharp losses, there were outside the average group a number of companies such as Standard Oil of California and Allis-Chalmers, the market experienced its sharpest drop since last Sept. 8, at new lows, while 729 were lower, with 28 setting new lows.

Firemen Rescue Baby As Smoke Fills Bedroom

Child Unharmed In Banneker Blaze

A year-old child was rescued when smoke from a burning sofa filled a bedroom yesterday afternoon at the Benjamin Banneker Homes on Frederick Street.

City firemen said little Joseph Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wheeler, Apartment 2A, was carried from the smoke-filled first floor apartment and rushed to Sacred Heart Hospital where he was treated for smoke inhalation and released.

Firemen received the box alarm at the housing project at 3:39 p. m. East Side Fire Company responded and called Central Fire Company's pumper and hook-and-ladder to the scene.

Child Found In Crib

Firemen rushed into the apartment when the mother of the young child screamed that her baby "is still in there." Smoke was pouring from a room which appeared to be a combination bedroom and storage room, firemen said, and they had difficulty finding the lad. A large sofa bed in the room was on fire.

The boy was located in his crib in an adjoining bedroom which was not completely filled with smoke. He was taken, barely conscious, to his mother, Mrs. Wheeler then ran with her child to the hospital, where young Joseph was treated and reported to be in "good condition." The baby did not suffer any burns, firemen added.

Firemen extinguished the blaze, which they reported nearly destroyed the sofa bed, a crib, and another bed in the room. The floor, walls and windows were badly charred and there was some damage to the walls and floor in the hallway outside the apartment. This was mostly from smoke and water the firemen stated.

Fire Confined

Firemen said they did not order the huge building evacuated when they realized the fire was not serious and was confined to a small area in the room where it originated.

Mrs. Wheeler told the firemen she believed the fire began because of a child playing with matches in the room.

A large smoke ejector fan was erected in the apartment by Central Fire Company and quickly dispelled the smoke and fumes after the fire was put out.

Appeals Court Grants Gray Third Trial

Raymond J. A. Gray, former local man who more recently resided in Baltimore, yesterday was granted a second new trial by the Maryland Court of Appeals on an armed robbery charge.

An Allegany County Circuit Court jury last May found Gray guilty of armed robbery. Thereafter, he was sentenced by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris to 10 years in the Maryland Penitentiary.

That was the same sentence Judge Harris had imposed upon Gray in October 1958. The prior conviction was set aside by the Court of Appeals and the trial last May was Gray's second.

He was convicted of assaulting and robbing William J. Cover, 50, in a parked car in Cumberland in September, 1958.

The high court held that the lower court judge erred in permitting the sentence of a co-defendant, Howard Maurice Iser, to be admitted at Gray's separate trial.

"We are unable to conclude," the high court said, "that the Legislature intended, generally, to render the conviction of another person, although an alleged joint actor, admissible evidence against a defendant charged with the same crime, as tending to establish his guilt."

Area Firemen Attend Meet

Allegany and Garrett counties were represented at the quarterly meeting of the Executive Committee of the State Firemen's Association which was entertained Sunday by Governor and Mrs. J. Millard Tawes.

Ralph Small, Boulevard Heights, president of the state association, was in charge of the business session.

2 Killed In Crash On Curve

Drivers Unidentified After Rt. 220 Crash

Two unidentified men were killed in a head-on collision early today on U. S. Route 220 south of Rawlings.

State Police said a southbound car bearing West Virginia tags, and a Maryland car headed north met on a curve at the foot of a section of road known as the "Danville Straight."

Sgt. Harry Bosley said the left front sections of the cars apparently collided as both vehicles were rounding the curve, a mile and a half south of Rawlings Post Office.

Both men apparently were killed instantly, and the driver of the West Virginia car was pinned in the demolished vehicle.

There were no other passengers in either car and the road was dry at the time, shortly after midnight.

State Police and the medical examiner's office were still trying to establish the identity of the victims at 1:30 a. m. today.

Investigating were Troopers Thomas Ruppert and Richard Graham. The Rodgers Funeral Home sent its ambulance from Keyser to bring the victims to Memorial Hospital here.

Judge Grants Weddle Writ; Still Jailed

Previous Hearing Called 'Travesty'

Glenn L. Weddle won his argument in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday but he still is confined in the Patuxent Institution.

At the conclusion of a habeas corpus hearing yesterday, Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris granted Weddle's petition for a writ of habeas corpus. However, he stipulated that Weddle should be remanded to the custody of the Patuxent Institution until a further hearing can be conducted here to determine whether he remains a defective delinquent.

Weddle argued that he was denied the right to court-appointed counsel for a hearing on review in Allegany County Circuit Court in May 1957. At that time, the then Chief Judge George Henderson granted Weddle's request that Elmer Crawford, a fellow inmate who is not a lawyer and who had no legal training, be permitted to assist him in the trial of the case.

It is my opinion that the petitioner should have been provided with counsel," Judge Harris wrote in his three-page opinion. "To sanction quasi-legal representation by Elmer Crawford, another defective delinquent who had been determined intellectually deficient and emotionally unbalanced, to represent the petitioner was a travesty on justice. He could not have been given a fair trial under the circumstances, and the court concluding that a fair trial was denied, it is believed he should be given another opportunity to have his case determined."

Judge Harris concluded Weddle was found guilty of burglary in the Baltimore Criminal Court on May 31, 1955. He was transferred to the Patuxent Institution on June 9. It was determined that he was a defective delinquent and he subsequently applied for a hearing. This was held in Baltimore on January 15, 1957. He was then found to be a defective delinquent. The hearing in Allegany County four months later was a review of the January decision.

Judge Harris explains in his opinion that the statute defines a defective delinquent as one "who is found to have either such intellectual deficiency or emotional unbalance, or both, as to clearly demonstrate an actual danger to society. . . ."

Thomas N. Berry was Weddle's court-appointed attorney at yesterday's hearing.

Closed Ranks

Rusty Haines, three-year-old polio victim who is the 1960 March of Dimes Baby for Allegany County, gives his blessing as Hugh A. McMullen, county chairman, and Victor M. Hebb, Cumberland chairman, close their political ranks solidly behind the MOD campaign. Mr. Hebb is a member of the Republican State Central Committee and Mr. McMullen, of the Young Democrats.

Democrat, Republican United In Dimes Drive

Last June, when Victor M. Hebb, 430 South Street, developed an illness that kept him off work for five months, his doctor told him that he would have to give up many extra-curricular activities.

His wife reports that his first reaction to this advice was:

"Well, I'll have to stay with the March of Dimes. Those crippled kids still need help."

Vic, as he is known to his many friends, has been with the March of Dimes for 16 years. And he is still with it—working just as hard—having been appointed Cumberland chairman of the present Dimes drive by County Chairman Hugh A. McMullen.

A husky, friendly man, Vic has been employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for 40 years. A machinist by trade, he has long been active in the union of his craft, and has served as a committeeman of Local 212.

"Mr. Hebb is a fine man," Mr. McMullen says. "He is a hard worker and one of the most devoted friends of the March of Dimes in this area. I'm proud to serve with him."

Later this year, McMullen and Hebb will be trying to out-shuffle each other on the political front. Vic is a red-hot Republican and a member of that party's State Central Committee; Hugh McMullen is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat and a member of the Young Democrats of Allegany County.

But there are no politics between the two men now. Good naturedly, they declared last night:

"We've closed ranks solidly for the benefit of crippled children."

Working in politics has always been Vic Hebb's hobby. In fact, he has often taken part of his vacation during elections so that he might be out on the firing line. Mrs. Hebb relates that she once talked him into a vacation in Canada. He wasn't impressed. She even arranged a big fishing trip for him. Still he wasn't impressed.

"Politics, his union, and the March of Dimes," she said — "that's been his whole life." Vic is also on the County Board of Election Supervisors, and has seen active service in the Eagles, Knights of Malta, Dapper Dan Club, and St. John's Lutheran Church.

Recently his union staged an annual dinner—an affair he had attended for years. It was held upstairs, and he couldn't go because he is not allowed to climb stairs in his present condition. But he sent his trademark — a canister for contributions to the crippled children he loves. His union buddies filled it.

For years, B. & O. employees have found Vic a familiar figure on one of their January paydays, waiting at the pay line with a March of Dimes canister. Sometimes, in order to cover more territory, he has the volunteer help of school children or ladies who are always active in the March of Dimes campaign.

This year, as Vic campaigns again for the March of Dimes, a single situation gives some idea of his stature as a man. There is no more vehement opponent of the New Deal, whose founder was Franklin D. Roosevelt. At the same time there is no more devoted follower of the March of Dimes, whose founder was also Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"I could never agree with Roosevelt's politics," Vic said last night. "But he sure knew how to be good to little kids."

County Zoning Commission Gains Support

Citizens Back Proposition

The first step in the anticipated development of planning and zoning commissions for Allegany County was taken yesterday afternoon when representatives of the State Planning Department met at the Court House with the county commissioners and about 20 other interested citizens.

Commissioners John T. Mason and William A. Wilson appeared to favor moving forward with the naming of a planning commission. One aspect of the county-wide planning and zoning problem is whether it also would include the seven incorporated communities of the county. Commissioner John J. Rowan was absent because of illness.

The state representatives suggested the best procedure would be to get the communities to agree to inclusion in the county-wide planning and zoning provisions. Mayor Robert D. Peebles of Lonaconing, the only one of the seven county mayors present, said he favored the inclusion of his community.

Meeting here with the county citizens were James J. O'Donnell, director of the State Planning Department; Martin E. Casey, an economist for the same department, and Franz J. Vidor, director of the Baltimore Regional Planning Council, which embraces Baltimore City and the adjacent counties of Baltimore, Anne Arundel, Harford, Howard, and Carroll. Mr. Casey is primarily interested in the interpretation of Section 701 of the U. S. Housing Act, which enables the federal government to provide funds for county planning operations.

Mr. Casey explained that 13 of Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore City now have planning and zoning regulations. The pioneer unit is the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission which serves all of Montgomery County and about two-thirds of Prince George's County. It has functioned for about 28 years. Washington, Cecil, Carroll and Charles counties have adopted their regulations in the last several years.

None of the legislators, realtors, industrial representatives and other interested citizens at yesterday's meeting expressed any opposition to the proposed planning and zoning development. If anything, there was impatience that the move had been delayed so long.

Cumberland and LaVale are the only communities in the county now with zoning regulations. The primary function of a planning commission is the preparation, adoption and implementation of a master plan for the physical development of the county. The State Planning Department says the plan is not to be considered inflexible and should be amended and enlarged as circumstances require.

Master Plan Elements

The State Planning Department lists seven important elements of a master plan as follows:

1. A land use plan showing the location and extent of land in the county proposed to be used for residential, commercial, industrial and public uses; 2. a thoroughfare plan indicating the system of existing and proposed major streets and roads; 3. a community facilities plan which shows the location and type of schools, parks, playgrounds and other public facilities; 4. a public utilities plan which not only includes the location of existing utilities but also the proposed extensions of water, sewer, electric power and gas; 5. a zoning ordinance, 6. subdivision regulations, and 7. a public improvements program which identifies these future public improvements (Cont. Winds Buffet Area; Highways Icy, Dangerous

Temperatures Dip Below Freezing

Wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour buffeted the area in the wake of early morning snowfall, and highways were reported icy and dangerous last night by State Police.

State Roads Commission crews were working around the clock to clear the slick spots in U. S. Route 40 west of Frostburg where several heavy trailer trucks were hung up on hilly grades.

SRC workers said the harsh winds kept blowing the cinders and salt off the highway as quickly as it was applied, preventing crews from covering the icy areas.

Snow was measured up to four inches in Garrett County and was still blowing and swirling last night. Visibility was poor in many areas, and State Police cautioned motorists against travel on most secondary roads in both Allegany and Garrett counties. Chains and snow treads were recommended, as so. . . of the slick spots were hazardous.

Temperatures dipped into the 20s during the day in Garrett County.

Allegany County got some heavy flurries on a stop-and-go basis, while road conditions in the Cumberland area and east are generally good, with some snowy patches.

Cumberland had one-tenth of an inch of snow, with a high temperature of 33 and a low of 29 during the day. The mercury registered 30 degrees at 6 p. m. and was dropping as gusts of wind whipped over the chilly hillsides.

Most of West Virginia was blanketed with snow, with parts of Randolph and Tucker counties recording up to six inches. Elkins seemed to be hardest hit by the snowstorm, which attained blizzard proportions there by midnight.

The snowfall and freezing temperatures made driving hazardous in many sections of the state, and the State Road Commission cautioned motorists to take chains.

Forecast today is cloudy, windy and cold. Temperatures will be in the low 30s.

Elk Garden Man Indicted For Murder

Ralph Evans, of Elk Garden, W. Va., yesterday was indicted for murder in the first degree by the grand jury of the January term of Mineral County Circuit Court which heard testimony in the December 12, 1959 shooting of William Glenn Ayers, 29, at the White Raven Tavern about eight miles southwest of Keyser on U. S. Route 50.

In other indictments returned by the jurors, Mervin Lavine Biggs, 30 Lyons Street, Ridgeley, was indicted on a charge of breaking and entering Boggs Supply Company building the same day on New Creek Drive about a mile southeast of Keyser on U. S. Route 220.

George Shaw, 42, of Keyser was indicted on a charge of felonious assault and robbery of C. L. Hiland, 42, also of Keyser on November 10, 1959.

Stanley D. Bonney, of Keyser, and Wilford J. Mahoney, of Beryl, W. Va., who were arrested here November 5 in connection with the breaking and entering of Weese's Appliance Store in Keyser, were indicted yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering the store.

Evans, who was the operator of the White Raven Tavern, was held in the Mineral County jail without bail following the shooting last month. The victim, who had lived in the Keyser area about a year, was shot in the chest and died instantly.

Delivery Begins Today On New Phone Books

Five Pages Added To 1960 Directory

Delivery will begin today of more than 30,000 1960 telephone directories to residences and businesses in Allegany County, Ridgeley and nearby points in Pennsylvania.

Local persons who have been hired to deliver the new directories will start distributing them to homes and businesses this morning.

Continued growth of this area is indicated in the new directory, as it shows an increase of five pages, and 750 additional listings over the last issue which was distributed last January.

In the last 10 years the Allegany County directory has grown by over 8,000 listings to the present 22,150 in the new directory.

Because there have been numerous changes in listings and telephone numbers including all subscribers in Oldtown, customers should look up all numbers in the new book before calling. Almost 10,000 changes will be reflected in the 1960 directory.

The phone company said the old directories should be destroyed when the new ones are delivered, and it is suggested that subscribers go through their present books and remove all notes and personal papers they sometimes file in the telephone directory.

The cover of the new directory is light tan and features a picture of the grave and monument of Francis Scott Key on the front. It is expected that the delivery will take about four or five days.

A breakdown on the various exchanges and the total stations in each shows:

Cumberland, 20,561; Frostburg, 3,568; Lonaconing, 1,519; Flintstone, 313; McCoolle, 296; Mt. Savage, 582; Westernport, 2,045; Ridgeley, 1,659; State Line, Pa., 94; Wellersburg, Pa., 98, and Kifer, 17. Oldtown numbers were included in the Cumberland total.

Struck By Car

An 84-year-old man identified by police as William H. Quantz of 146 Polk Street was struck by an automobile operated by Rabbi B. J. Cohen of Beth Jacob Synagogue on North Liberty Street about 4:35 p. m. yesterday. Police said the man told them Rabbi Cohen's car backed into him as he was crossing the street. He was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital but refused to be examined.

View 1960 Telephone Directory

Two employees of the C&P Telephone Company are shown looking at the 1960 telephone directory which will be distributed during the next several days to residences and businesses in this section. They are Mrs. Audrey Blubaugh, left, and Mrs. Dorothy Trostle, employees in the local business office. Over 30,000 new books will be distributed. The work, which will begin today, is expected to take four or five days.
